

consult x connect x change

Beth Chase receives 2011 Entrepreneur of the Year Award

Brentwood, TN., April 20, 2011

Beth Chase, President and CEO of C3 Consulting, was recently honored among 10 local executives with the 2011 Entrepreneur of the Year Award. In its second year, the award was presented by the Nashville City Paper in conjunction with the Nashville chapter of Entrepreneurs' Organization in recognition of outstanding achievement, ability to overcome obstacles and other leadership qualities.

Chase was noted for her drive and ambition, key factors that played important roles when she started C3 Consulting in 2005. Along with four other partners, she has grown the management consulting firm to nearly 60 consultants and expects to earn revenues over $10 million in 2011.

Other recipients represent companies in a wide range of industries, including printing, healthcare, real estate and food services. "I'm extremely honored to be recognized among such an outstanding group of local leaders," said Chase.

C3 Consulting is a management consulting firm that focuses on strategic project leadership for companies going through growth or change. Typical engagements include leading merger & acquisition integrations, facilitating strategic planning initiatives, managing transformational projects, leading software evaluation efforts, and influencing organizational change.

For more information, visit our website at www.c3-consult.com

The power of C3 – the result is exponential